

Mariam and the Hero Project

English Mood Academy

yellow = new words red = Past Simple verbs

Last month, Miss Salma asked her Prep.1 class to choose a hero. Mariam wanted a role model with strong values.

Mariam went to the school library. She found a biography of Dr. Gamal Hemdan, a great Egyptian geographer and thinker.

She read that he studied at Cairo university. His curiosity about places and maps was amazing.

Dr. Hemdan wrote about Egypt's location. He said it makes Egypt powerful. His new methods combine history and geography.

His books had a big impact on many people. They inspire young readers even today, and he won many awards.

Mariam felt afraid of speaking in front of the class. But she was determined to overcome her fear.

Every day she worked on her poster with great dedication. Her kind brother helped her practise.

On Sunday, Mariam stood in front of the class. She talked about Dr. Hemdan's strong personality and his great achievement.

Her friends clapped. "We respect people like him," Miss Salma said. Mariam's poster won first prize!

Miss Salma gave her a gold medal. Mariam smiled — no, she started to grin! She learned that heroes make us better.

The End 🏅
