

Nour's Green Exam Week

English Mood Academy

yellow = new words red = past simple / continuous

Last week, Nour was revising for her general exam when her teacher announced a school campaign to go green.

The campaign was a new initiative: "Every class must reduce its waste," the teacher said.

While Nour was walking home, she saw bags of plastic waste on their way to the landfill.

"If we reuse our bottles, we will save money and the planet," she thought. She wrote a slogan: "One bag at a time!"

The next day, her friends organized a book swap. They brought old books and took new ones home.

"We should use renewable energy too," Omar suggested. "The sun gives us light every day."

Their teacher was proud. "You must think about the depletion of resources. Our future must be sustainable."

Nour bought a reusable water bottle, and every student chose eco-friendly bags instead of plastic ones.

Pollution was a big concern for the town, so the class made posters and shared them online.

On exam day, Nour answered every question. She smiled: she passed her exam and helped her school go green!

The End 🌱

Small green steps make a big difference.

خطوات خضرا صغيرة بتعمل فرق كبير.
