yellow = new words red = past verbs

Zeina had a big dream: a garden behind the school cafeteria. She took the initiative. She researched school gardens online and wrote a simple proposal with the good and the difficult sides.

At the student council meeting, her hands were shaking, but she spoke with courage. "Our school deserves something beautiful," she said.

Some students laughed. Zeina felt hurt, but she ignored them. Ms. Hoda, the biology teacher, liked her determination and helped her speak to different students.

Zeina found out that many students had a special talent. Nancy was good with tools, Noha loved painting, Amal was strong, and Sarah was organized. The idea became a shared project.

Teamwork was the secret. Everyone had a responsibility, and they showed respect for each other. But first they needed money to buy seeds, tools and soil.

Zeina showed initiative again. She asked the local community for donations, and she was always honest about how the money would be used.

Then it rained for two weeks, and some of their first plants started to die. Amal was upset. "This is too hard. Maybe we should just quit," she said.

Zeina felt disappointed too, but instead of giving up, she stayed strong. "I understand you're frustrated," she said kindly. "Every project has setbacks. We can't stop now."

The team changed their plan. They researched which plants suit their climate and how to protect them from too much rain. They built a better watering system.

Slowly, the garden started to look better again. The team was motivated and felt proud, because they solved the problems together.

The End 🌱

Setbacks are part of every project. With determination and teamwork, don't quit!
